Sneezing Catarrh,

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing effected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

WASHINGTON.

Governor Swineford Denies the Charges from Alaska.

THE COMING WEEK IN CONGRESS

Probable Course of Legislation in the Senate—The President Vetoes Two Private Pension Bills, and Gives his Reasons

WASHINGTON, Feb 20.—Governor Swineford of Alaska has been seen with reference to the printed letters mailed from Portland, charging him with certain offenses. The most important letter is one written to John McCafferty, by B. K. Cowles. The letter purports to have been written at Sitka, and sworn to by Cowles. The latter charges that Mr Treadwell of the Gold Mill, gave Swineford a gold nugget weighing about sixty eight dollars, the nugget to be used on a cane that Swineford was to present to Cleveland. Soon afterward Swineford came into Cowles' office and asked that a gold twenty be melted, saying "I will use that on the president's cane. Cleveland will never know the difference." The coin gold was melted as suggested. Cowles stated that the nugget was afterward given by the governor to a Wisconsin friend. A ... thinks the cane has never been presented to Cleveland. To this Gov Swineford replies that the cane was presented to Cleveland last year; that it is true that he substituted coined gold for the so called nugget, which was in reality retorted gold, and for certain gold dust handed him, but that the gold inserted into the head of the cane and the payment of the Indian for carving the cane amounted to over $100. The substitution for gold dust was rendered almost necessary from the difficulty in melting.

OTHER CHARGES

Cowles further charges that while he was acting as commissioner to the New Orleans exposition the managers thereof appropriated $2000 to collect an exhibit from Alaska. When the first installment of $1000 was received at Victoria Swineford handed Cowles $500, putting the other $500 into his own pocket. Arriving at Sitka Swineford asked for $400 more, which was given him, the last $100 being sent later from Victoria as a draft, Swineford saying Cowles could have all the money if he demanded. The remaining $1300 was spent by Cowles in defraying the expenses of the exhibit. To this the governor replies that there is not a grain of truth in the figures, but the money involved was private means that he borrowed, $500 of Cowles, but afterwards repaid it, as he can prove; that he also borrowed other money, of which he still owes Cowles $100. He thinks this whole matter was instigated by McCafferty to cast a cloud over his (Swineford's) name, and thus lessen his influence with the executive or senators, should he be called on to state his views of McCafferty's fitness for the position of collector of customs of Alaska. He says if Cowles is in Alaska when he returns there he will take steps to have said Cowles indicted by the grand jury. It is his opinion that Cowles is not in possession of his right mind.

With reference to the petition of fifty citizens of Juneau praying that Swineford be removed from the office of governor, he states they can not be representative men, as he can not call to mind a familiar name among them. The charges made by Cowles, although generally discredited, have occasioned considerable comment among congressmen, each of whom received a printed copy thereof.

CONGRESSIONAL FORECAST

An Outline of the Work that will Come Before Congress this Week

WASHINGTON, Feb 20.—The probable course of legislation by the senate for the coming week and in fact the remainder of the session may best be judged by reference to the arrangement agreed upon by the caucuses last week. This arrangement is subject to change by agreement between Senators Harris and Sherman, chairmen respectively of the caucus committees who are authorized to confer and amend the order of business, but inasmuch as it has been reached with deliberation it is likely to remain substantially as it now stands. It contemplates rigid devotion of the morning hours until 2 o'clock of each day to consideration of miscellaneous minor matters upon the calendar which are not otherwise provided for and which do not promise to give rise to extended debate. In carrying out this part of the programme bills which have passed the house and have been reported favorably from senate committees will have precedence. After 2 o'clock the appropriation bills will have full sway so long as any remain upon the calendar. So far the arrangement is liable to interruption only by presentation and action upon conference reports, which are always in order, and by pension bills, general and special, which though possessing no inherent rights are by the consent of both sides to be accorded special privileges when circumstances permit.

The remaining time of the daily sessions is to be devoted to selected measures of general legislation substantially in the following order: Nicaraguan canal bill, resolution for an investigation of Pacific railroad accounts, bill creating a department of agriculture, bill for the relief of depositors in the Freedman's bank, the pleuro-pneumonia bill if it shall be reported from the committee on agriculture in time, the arbitration (labor) bill and any land grant forfeiture bills, bill to prohibit the use of the mails to newspapers publishing lottery advertisements, Des Moines land grant bill, bill authorizing suits to be brought in certain cases against the United States, bill to settle private land claims in certain states and territories, bill to reimburse certain states for moneys expended in the war of 1812, bill to establish an international copyright system and bill to quiet certain land titles. The list first prepared by the republicans is understood to have contained a bill to authorize Pacific railroads to build branches, but it appears to have been stricken out by the democrats, while the Pacific railroad resolution at the suggestion of the latter was taken from near the end of the list and placed near the head. It is not deemed probable that the remaining time of the session will be sufficient to complete the entire list.

The river and harbor appropriation bill will probably be finished to-morrow, and the District of Columbia and military academy bills, both of which are on the calendar, are expected to follow in the order named. The agricultural and diplomatic appropriation bills are before the committee on appropriations and are expected to be reported in time for action during the week.

IN THE HOUSE

The most important measure to be acted on in the house to-morrow, if the routine is adhered to, will be the Springer bill providing for reference of all private claims to the court of claims for adjudication. The committee on war claims will endeavor to pass the bill under suspension of the rules. An unimportant private land claim and measures of interest only to the district will probably consume the remainder of the day's session.

The senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill will occupy the attention of the house on Tuesday until 3 o'clock, when eulogies upon the late Senator Pike will be in order. Wednesday the fisheries retaliatory bill will be called up and a lively debate is expected. The president's veto of the dependent relatives pension bill is set for consideration Thursday. The remainder of the week will undoubtedly be devoted to consideration of appropriation bills and conference reports. The last six days of the present congress begin on Friday and it will then be in order to move to pass any measure by a two-thirds vote under suspension of the rules. It is probable however that the manager of the house will contrive to prevent indiscriminate legislation under this privilege by filling in the time of the house with appropriation bills or other privileged matters.

TWO MORE VETOES

Characteristic Messages from the President Opposing Private Pension Bills

WASHINGTON, Feb 19.—The president sent two messages to the senate to-day vetoing an act granting a pension to Charlotte O'Neal and an act granting a pension to John Reed Sr. The first named bill proposed to grant a pension to the widow of Richard O'Neal, late colonel of the Twenty sixth regiment of Indiana volunteers. In his message in this case the president says: The records of the war department fail to show that there was a colonel of the Twenty sixth Indiana regiment named Richard O'Neal, but it does appear that Richard Neal was lieutenant-colonel of said regiment; that he was mustered in August 31 1861 and resigned June 30 1863. If this is the officer whose widow is named in the bill the proposition is to pension the widow of a soldier who after ten months service resigned and who seven months after his resignation died of disease which in no manner related to his military service.

In his message in relation to the act granting a pension to John Reed Sr the president says: The records show that the beneficiary named in this bill filed an application for a pension in 1877, alleging that he was the father of John Reed, who died in the service, and that his wife, mother of the deceased soldier, died May 13 1876, and that he (the father) was mainly dependent upon his son for support. He filed evidence of the mother's death and one witness alleged that he was present at her death and attended her funeral. ... Martha Reed, mother of the soldier, filed her application for ... the widow of John Reed. She ... was now the soldier was her main support after such abandonment. She was allowed a pension as a dependent mother which commenced in 1862, the date of her son's death, and seems to have terminated July 22 1884, when she died. The claim of the father was rejected in 1883 for the reason that the mother who had a prior right was still living, and when his claim was again presented in 1885 he was informed that his abandonment of his family in 1859 precluded the idea that he was entitled to a pension as being dependent upon a soldier for support. Of course these decisions were correct in law, in equity and in morals. This case demonstrates the means employed to cheat the government in applications for pensions too often successful.

CALIFORNIA.

NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA AND HAWAIIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 20.—Australian advices by steamer Zealandia state that sixty lives were lost by recent floods in Brisbane, Queensland. The damage to property is enormous, but cannot yet be estimated.

The Auckland Bell of January 26 says: A private letter received from Kimberly contains an account of terrible slaughter of blacks in that district. A miner stole a young black and in retaliation the negroes killed the miner and wounded his two companions. The latter escaped, secured aid, pursued the blacks and out of a band of forty of the latter all but one were shot down.

The Hawaiian Gazette of February 8 says: The lava flow from the crater of Mauna Loa has ceased. The length of the flow which reached the sea was twenty miles. Earthquake shocks were felt until January 6.

On February 12 the Honolulu Bulletin issued an extra announcing a volcanic outbreak at Mokuaweoweo. Smoke, steam and lava were emitted, the latter flowing in the direction on Kawaihae.

THE SAN FRANCISCO THEATERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 20.—Herrmann, the magician, has concluded a successful season of three weeks at the Bush street theater, and will be succeeded by the Carleton Opera company, which opens with the new opera "Fanchette."

The Alcazar has been well filled the past two weeks by an excellent performance of Monte Cristo. To morrow night will be given a dramatization of Hugh Conway's novel Called Back.

Clara Morris closed a three weeks engagement at the Baldwin last night with eclat. During this week a spectacular production of Faust will be given at this theater.

The Tivoli has done a large business during the last week with The Professor. To-morrow night will be given a new comic opera called The Vagabond.

At the California 'The World', which has done good business, will be succeeded by "The Shadow of a Great City."

A SEARCH FOR AUSTRALIAN RABBITS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 20.—The steamer Zealandia arrived this morning from Australia and was immediately boarded by Deputy Collector Fogarty for the purpose of searching the vessel for Australian rabbits, which it was reported the vessel would bring to this port, and which are a terrible pest in Australia, where they breed with extraordinary rapidity, and destroy all vegetation. It was feared that if these animals were allowed to land they would make sad havoc with the fruit trees and wheat fields of this state. The lower house of the legislature, aware of these facts, adopted a resolution authorizing the immediate killing of rabbits on their arrival and further action in the matter is contemplated. Deputy Collector Fogarty searched the Zealandia to-day, but diligent investigation failed to reveal the presence of any of the obnoxious animals.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF LOW RATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 20.—In anticipation of an advance in freight rates either on or before the interstate commerce act becomes a law, shippers of this city are ordering large supplies from the East by rail and by April 1 many of them will be fully stocked for the summer trade. It is not exactly known by outsiders that rates are being cut by lines agreeing to maintain them at 50 per cent of the old tariff, but it is strongly suspected that such is the case. It is known that sugar has been leaving the city in large quantities for trans Mississippi points, and a belief is prevalent that it has gone at cut rates. About 5000 tons have been taken overland thus far this year. Ten carloads left yesterday. The Atlantic & Pacific and the Central Pacific have taken a greater portion of this class of freight to the Missouri river.

RAIN AND HAIL.

A light rain which began falling at 5 o'clock this afternoon continued until 10 o'clock this evening, when it developed into heavy showers, accompanied by hail.

SNOWING AT TRUCKEE

TRUCKEE, Feb 20.—It began snowing again to-day. Indications are for another storm.

THE WAR CLOUD.

THE CAMPAIGN IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Feb 19.—There is a pause in the intensity of the electoral conflict pending Monday's polling. Committees everywhere continue active but there is a momentary lull in public agitation. There is also a significant subsidence in war rumors. This the opposition say is because the government no longer considers such aliment necessary to excite the electorates. Though official circles are sure of victory they are much less confident that their majority will be large. Their most sanguine estimates increase the number of conservatives from 78 to 86, and national liberals from 50 to 60. They concede a reduction in one quarter from 67 to 50, leaving other sections about the same as before. The septennate majority is dependent upon a split in the center party, in which it is calculated there are 60 triennists against 30 septennists. If this estimate is realized, and the government fails to obtain a decisive majority for all its purposes, the new reichstag will vote for the military bill, but will be equally ready as was the last reichstag to resist Bismarckian projects for securing permanent supplies.

The socialists hope to return thirty four candidates, an increase of ten over their number in the last reichstag. The progressionists are the only party with moderate expectations. They will be gratified if they retain their former force.

The results of the elections will be known definitely Tuesday night. It is reported that Prince Bismarck desires to convoke the reichstag for February 28, and will demand urgency for the military bill.

A ministerial order issued to-day relative to calling out the army recruits for 1886 and 1888 provides that men who receive permission to discontinue active service and enter the reserves will be dismissed at latest on September 30, while between the 1st and 5th of November new infantry recruits will enter the ranks for arms drills.

THE FEELING IN PARIS

NEW YORK, Feb 20.—Cable special from London: A trip to Paris in the early part of the week revealed a state of cheerfulness among the French, hardly creditable under the circumstances, and a most bewildering diversity of opinions as to what is going to happen. Very significant—and from the English point of view most surprising—was the optimistic view almost everywhere prevailing, and, in the better educated ... I was struck with the great confidence of the more comfortably fixed classes, not so much in France's ability to beat Germany, as in the improbability of having to make the attempt. Talk with McLane, our minister, confirmed the impression I had received. McLane declared that the wisest Frenchmen did not believe war was coming and he agreed with them. McLane believes there has been at no time danger of war breaking out between France and Germany. The danger to Europe's peace has been the uncomfortable feeling between Austria and Russia. Here in London however a belief that war is coming with the spring is held.

WAR NOTES FROM VIENNA

VIENNA, Feb 20.—The council of war met again on Saturday. Officers of the reserves are forbidden to leave the country.

French officers are buying horses in Spain.

THE EUROPEAN BOURSES

AT PARIS

PARIS, Feb 20.—On the bourse during the past week business was fairly active. Yesterday the market was especially animated at the opening, but later in the day all quotations were checked by an advance in prices. The week's variations include the following increases: Three per cent. rentes ... per cents ... 30c, Italians ... 60c, credit foncier 40f, Suez canal 3 ... Panama canal ... 25c.

AT BERLIN

BERLIN, Feb 20.—On the bourse during the week prices were firm but business was rather limited. Yesterday's market closed with a general improvement. Hungarian rentes rising ¼ per cent on the day, and other foreign securities rising ¼ per cent. Russian is closed at 104 5, Deutsche bank at 4 10, Austrian gold rentes at 86 90, Hungarian gold rentes at 610, Austrian credit at 44, short exchange on London at 20 40, long exchange at 20 ..., and private discount at 2 ...

AT FRANKFORT

FRANKFORT, Feb 20.—Prices were firmer on the bourse during the week past and there was a general fractional advance. Short exchange on London closed at 20 4..., exchange on New York at 4 22 and private discount at 2⅞.

NEW YORK, Feb 13.—Advices under date of February ... from Costa Rica say: The minister of the interior and marine has sent the following circular to port captains at Limon and Punta Arenas: The government has determined to prohibit the entry into the republic of Chinese, and for this reason you will prevent the landing of Chinamen whether they come on their own account or to work for others.

THE EAST.

THE RECENT B & O DISASTER.

The Transcontinental Roads and the Interstate Commerce Law—Dr McGlynn to be Reinstated

CHICAGO, Feb 20.—Times Lincoln, Nebraska, special: Damage to telegraph wires has made the task of collecting details of the late storm in Colorado and western Nebraska very slow and tedious. As news comes in it shows that the disturbance was the worst in the history of the region affected by it. The storm raged in the mountains and descended upon the plains. These had been dry and free of moisture so long that dust and sand mingled with the snow in resistless blasts. Neither man nor beast could stand before the rush. This compound filled shallow cuts level full and effectually blockaded the tracks. Fortunately the cuts are shallow and snow plows were able to clear them out.

The roof of the Burlington round house at Akron was blown off. West of McCook two men were picked up dead, and another so badly frozen and exhausted that his life was despaired of. Many other fatalities are expected when reports come in from territory distant from railroads.

As trains come in to-day the passengers and train men saw cattle in draws buried to their heads in snow. As hardly a cow was to be seen elsewhere, it is evident that many are entirely covered. Most of those seen will perish. In fact all except a few that can be found and dug out by the small force available for that purpose will be lost. The loss of cattle will be something appalling. The storm covered the entire range on the east side of the Rocky mountains from the British line to New Mexico. The eastern edge lapped into Nebraska to the North Platte and McCook. Least of these points no damage was done. Unless all stories are exaggerated not less than 25 per cent of all the cattle on the range are wiped out.

THE B & O DISASTER.

The Engineer was not Drunk, and the Company was to Blame.

PITTSBURG, Feb 20.—The Post's Tiffin, Ohio, special says: Investigation of the great Baltimore & Ohio wreck of January 4 has drawn to an end finally and to-morrow forenoon a verdict will be rendered by Coroner Sepper. The verdict is a very lengthy document, of which the following is a synopsis, from an advance copy served to-night: The coroner first finds that Wm. Fredericks of Holgate, Ohio, M Francis and Frank Irwin of Black Hand, Ohio, W S Pierce, of Wheeling, W Va, Joseph Postlethwaite, Henry Postlethwaite and Spencer Postlethwaite, of Wetzel county, W Va, M H Parks of Washington, D C, Frank D Bowman of Mechanicsburg, Pa, David Ober of Oberlin, Ohio, Thos O Pemberton of Payne, Ohio, Alvy B Ice of Penfield, Ill, John S Gartner of Mechanicsville, Ohio, and others whose names are unknown, came to their death by a collision on the Baltimore & Ohio railway, one-half mile west of the village of Republic, January 4, 1887, at 2 o'clock A. M. He also finds that freight engine No 9.. was in an unsafe and unserviceable condition and that the officials of the road had been notified of this fact, but still allowed it to be used.

The engineer of the freight train, Edward Skiler, was not intoxicated, as charged, but was worn out with sixteen hours and fifty minutes continuous duty with a green fireman and a poor engine. He had plenty of time to get to Republic from Seneca siding (thirty-eight minutes for ten miles), but his engine was so poor and leaked so that the fires were put out, and it died on the track at the point of collision.

The conductor of the freight, L. F. Fletcher, failed in his duty in not flagging the limited express, for he knew the engine had died ten minutes before the express was due.

The brakes on the express were inferior and ineffective, for they failed to diminish the speed of forty three miles an hour more than one half in a distance of 1000 feet.

The manner of heating and lighting the cars of the express train was inferior, unsafe and dangerous and contrary to the laws of the state of Ohio. Had the lighting and heating been proper the cars would not have burned, and the loss of life would have been very light.

We therefore find that the above persons came to their death through gross negligence on the part of the officials and managers of the Chicago division of the Baltimore & Ohio railway of Garrett, Ind, and through the gross negligence of Conductor L. F. Fletcher in failing to signal the express train, and through gross negligence on the part of the officers, managers and officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway company for using on said express train inferior and ineffective brakes, also for using an improper, dangerous and unlawful manner of lighting and heating the cars of said express.

It would seem that such negligence as resulted in such great loss of life could not be other than criminal, but there are no laws in Ohio making such negligence a crime and no laws under which such persons can be charged with crime.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL ROADS.

Speculation as to the Effect of the Interstate Commerce Law

NEW YORK, Feb 20.—Regarding numerous reports that the transcontinental railroad troubles will soon be settled, an officer of the Southern Pacific said to-day: Reports of an early settlement of the transcontinental war through the action of the interstate commerce bill, are discredited. The only effect of that law will be to cause freight rates to be posted up, and stop the secret drawbacks now practiced. There will be still room for competition in rates, but they will be open to all. The rivalry between the Atchison and the California companies may be kept up till one or the other is exhausted.

A representative of the Union Pacific said: "Our instructions are to make no guarantee of rates beyond March 22 next. It is not likely that there will be any change however in present rates until the interstate bill becomes operative. What rates will be after that date no one can give any definite idea at present. California and Pacific coast rates will no doubt be advanced to figures based on higher rates to territories and local rates to Utah, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho and the territories adjacent to the Pacific coast, which are higher than San Francisco rates, and as the tonnage and revenue from such business is much greater than that to Pacific coast points, it is very natural instead of reducing rates to such territories on the basis of Pacific coast rates, which would entail an extensive loss of revenue, that Pacific coast rates are likely to be framed on the basis of local figures as the consequent loss of business in their advance would not be considerable. If the interstate commerce bill be strictly enforced and no exception made it will rebound greatly to the interest of the water routes including the Pacific Mail and Canadian Pacific railway as they will not be affected by its provisions.

A General Belief that he will be Reinstated and Go to Rome

NEW YORK, Feb 20.—A belief that Dr McGlynn will be reinstated in St. Stephens church was the topic of conversation among parishioners of the church to-day. It is said that McGlynn has received letters not only from many priests of the Roman Catholic church in this country, but in Europe, but has also letters from several cardinals and bishops, commending his course and approving his strength of purpose in holding to his opinions on property in land, which are they say consistent with the doctrines of the church. The theory now entertained by Dr McGlynn's friends is that he will be reinstated as pastor of St Stephens, that he will return to his home in the rectory and that he will then go to Rome. He will never go to Rome it is said unless he goes as pastor of St Stephens. Reinstatement of the doctor it is believed will take place before April 10, which is Easter Sunday. Dr McGlynn's health is slowly improving, and he now goes out daily. Masses were not largely attended to-day and the collections were small.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1887.

A SERIOUS QUESTION.

It is a well-known fact that the liquor-dealers' association of Oregon maintained a lobby at Salem during the session of the legislature. The specific object was to oppose the enactment of any law that would exact from the liquor seller payment of a proper tax or license fee, or enforce other needful regulations. The law enacted by the preceding assembly had proven quite worthless, and it was proposed with another act to supply its omissions and cure its defects. But the bill was strenuously opposed on the one hand by the liquor-dealers, and but coldly supported on the other by prohibitionists, and in consequence it failed. It is a curious fact that both liquor-dealers and prohibitionists are enthusiastic over the result; the former, because they have secured exemption from the tax proposed, and the latter, because they believe that the opposition of the liquor people to the tax will bring thousands of votes to the support of prohibition.

It is a very common thing to witness these results. In a great many of our states the like play has been going on during many years. It does help to increase the prohibition vote, no question; and this almost certainly will be the result in Oregon. Great numbers will say that since the liquor traffic refuses to pay such tax or license fee as it ought, the next thing is prohibition; for the liquor traffic shall not successfully defy efforts to tax, regulate and control it; it shall not arrogantly maintain the position that it is to be above the law or a law unto itself.

But here, in the minds of those who look at the subject from their judgment of what is actually practicable and attainable, not from the standpoint of enthusiasts for an idea on the one hand, nor from that of persons interested in the profits of an odious traffic on the other, rises the inquiry: "If prohibition is voted into the constitution what will be the result?" Will it prohibit? Can it be made to prohibit? Stringent legislation to support and enforce it—though the experience we are having with our legislative assemblies on the liquor question would seem to render it improbable that such legislation could be had—would be of use, no doubt, in those places where the demand for liquors was small. Where but few drinkers are, or few who want to drink—that is, in our villages and rural communities—prohibitory legislation would enable opponents of the liquor traffic to bring additional pressure against the saloon; and in such places, since the saloon, if it exists at all, is weak, prohibition might, and probably would, in many instances, supply the force necessary to close up the saloon or drive it into concealment. But the quantity of liquors sold and consumed in such places is very limited. Outside of the principal towns and cities (where prohibition can't be enforced) the liquor traffic of Oregon is of trifling proportions. Now, the whole trouble is just here: The liquor traffic cannot be stopped in Portland, Astoria, The Dalles, Pendleton, Baker City, Salem, Albany, Roseburg, Jacksonville and other places where liquors are largely in demand. An amendment to the constitution placing prohibition on the traffic will simply make the saloon in those towns and cities free from law. A traffic forbidden by the constitution can no longer be taxed, licensed, or in any way regulated. But because there is a strong and steady demand for liquors the supply will still exist. Under a prohibition amendment, therefore, our towns and cities where the liquor traffic is most carried on, and whose traffic in liquors is the thing that creates the demand for prohibition, will lose the power to tax or to fix any regulation or restraint, without acquiring the power to close the saloons.

This situation presents a serious difficulty to those who want to adopt measures as restrictive as are at all practicable, and who, since they know that the liquor traffic in our principal cities and towns will go on, even though prohibited by the constitution, would like to tax it as heavily as possible and keep it under all the lawful restraint they can. To the taxpayers of the state this tax question is no small matter. Again, there are many good citizens who would like to avoid the scandal of free liquor shops, running wide open in defiance of law, and this spectacle they are sure prohibition will give them. Heavy majorities for prohibition in Linn, Marion and Polk counties will not enforce prohibition in Portland, Astoria and The Dalles. THE OREGONIAN is well aware that many good citizens either dissent from this view or allow no weight to these objections. It cannot refuse them the credit of disinterestedness or sincerity; and as it detests the ways of the liquor traffic and its methods and results as much as any of them, it cannot, therefore, refrain from saying that it has a dread of seeing the liquor traffic made free in Portland and in our other principal towns, and entrenched moreover in the constitution by the very amendment proposed for suppressing it and casting it out.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S SUGGESTIONS.

A letter from Senator Sherman was read at a meeting of a noted republican club in New York a few evenings since, which is taken in many quarters as a sort of outline for the action of the republican party on subjects of current importance.

His preliminary statement is that the party now in control of the government is unable to agree upon any line of foreign or domestic policy, or to afford the country any relief from unnecessary taxation, and the time is opportune for the republican party to again enter upon its uncompleted mission. Two lines of policy are open: Either to reduce the revenues or to expend the surplus in beneficial public improvements.

From this statement the recommendation is drawn that the sound policy for the republican party would be to combine the two: first, by repealing all taxes that do not tend to encourage and foster domestic production, and second, by constructing a proper system of coast defenses and internal improvements, by improving the navy and extending our foreign commerce, by assisting and encouraging the South American republics and by perfecting commercial arrangements with Canada that would avoid future controversies about the rights of American fishermen.

Senator Sherman during many years has been one of our most sagacious public men. His mental balance, sound judgment and conspicuous ability have been manifested throughout his whole career. This letter is quite in accord with his usual discretion. The policy he has outlined would commend itself to the judgment of the country.

THE NEW INSURANCE ACT.

It is singular that Oregon should go to the decayed state of Nevada for a copy of an act to regulate an important branch of commercial business; but in case of the insurance bill, just passed, it has done so. And the adaptation of the bill from the law of Nevada is quite slovenly and crude. But the bill will make no great changes from the present system. The main thing that will interest the insured is the fact that policies are no longer to be stamped. License fees, issuance of certificates, etc., will probably make an aggregate tax of $3000 a year on insurance companies doing business in the state, 40 per cent. of which will go to the secretary of state, who is to act as insurance commissioner. The state treasurer already receives some $3000 a year for keeping the deposits of the companies. These are the roundabout methods employed by our state to secure decent compensation for officials whose salaries are ridiculously meager. So far this has been the chief object of our legislation on the subject of insurance, though its professed object, of course, is better protection for the insured. The new bill yet awaits the signature of the governor.

This morning THE OREGONIAN presents a complete summary of the work of the legislative session, including the action of the governor up to this time upon the various bills passed by the two houses, and a list of the bills upon which he has not taken action. Great labor has been expended upon this report, to secure fullness and accuracy. The whole came from Salem by telegraph last night.

It is said that R. D. Pitt, well known in Portland, who betook himself to British Columbia a year or two ago, got himself elected treasurer of an anti-Chinese society over there and has "absorbed" the funds. Well, if he has, it is less criminal than to have devoted the funds to the purpose for which they were contributed, viz.: to raid the Chinese.

Noting the fact that China has a conspicuous place in the published list of countries that sent aid to the Charleston sufferers from the earthquake, the Philadelphia Press suggests that "the fund could be used more appropriately in prosecuting the American desperadoes who inflict cruelties upon the helpless Chinese."

As secretary of the treasury, Mr. Manning gets $8000 a year. As president of a bank in New York he is to get $15,000. Salaries in high public office, except that of President of the United States, are always below the salaries that can be obtained by first-class men in first-class private business.

Kansas has just enacted a law giving women the right to vote in all municipal elections. It passed the senate by a vote of 22 to 13, and the house by a vote of 92 to 22. Evidently the woman-suffrage cause has attained a strong hold in Kansas.

Among the democratic millionaires of the senate are Payne of Ohio, Brown of Georgia, Hearst of California, Gibson and Eustis of Louisiana, Camden of West Virginia, and McPherson of New Jersey.

"The anarchist," remarks the Chicago Inter-Ocean, "is a fellow who don't work himself, but is willing to divide the pile even with anyone who does."

ADDRESS TO THE WATER COMMITTEE.

PORTLAND, Feb. 19, 1887.

Gentlemen:—In the case of David et al. against the city of Portland the supreme court decided that "the members of the water committee are agents of the city, required by the act to carry out its provisions." The question naturally arises, are the gentlemen who compose this committee and who by the law are thus created the agents of the city of Portland, and charged with the duty of lawfully carrying out the provisions of the act, exempt from the universal rule governing all persons placed in situations of trust or confidence, with relations to contracting and being contracted with.

If by reason of great respectability, financial responsibility or any other cause not recognized by the courts heretofore, a different rule is to be applied to the members of the water commission, that ends the discussion; but if the committee are simply human beings subject to the temptations incidental to selfish humanity in general, and are to be governed by the same rules of law which have been supposed to govern rich and poor alike, then the legality of their actions must be tested in the light of the law upon this subject, as it is applied to all other men under similar circumstances.

This law is tersely stated by Judge Deady in the case of Spare vs. The Insurance Company, 9 Sawyer, page 153, in the following words:

"The law has too much regard for the infirmity of human nature to allow a person to be subject to the temptation of acting as an agent in a matter in which he has an interest adverse to his principal, the law dealing with the average integrity and disinterestedness wisely assumes that no man can serve two masters whose interests are in conflict."

It will be seen that no exception is made as to the rich or poor, the high or low, but that the law credits every man with average integrity only.

I make no pretensions to legal learning, but the reason of this rule is apparent. If a trustee is required by the nature of his trust to sell securities he cannot himself become the buyer of them for the reason that his personal interests is to buy as cheaply as he can, while the interest of his principal is that his securities shall bring him the highest price obtainable. So in the case of a contract to furnish material, or for the rent of an office in which to do business the trustee as agent cannot himself become a party to the contract however advantageous this may in the opinion of the agent be to his principal, for the reason that, to use the language of the authority just quoted the law has too tender a regard for human infirmity to allow it to be thus tempted.

This proposition can be fitly illustrated in the matter of the appointment of this same water committee. A member who has been somewhat prominent in organizing the committee made an offer not six months before the creation of the committee to buy a large block of the stock of the old water company and pay at the rate of $750,000 for the property. As a member of the committee he was only willing to pay the company $450,000. Does any man believe that had this same member of the committee been able to buy this stock he would have been advocating the buying of the property at $450,000 or in bringing in the waters of Bull Run? His interests would have been adverse to it, and that would have been paramount to the interests of the city of Portland.

Now, in relation to the purchase of material, I observe in the tenders made to the committee a firm represented on the committee is awarded the contract for furnishing pipe to the amount of $22,706 38. Now the price paid for pipe by the Portland Water company and the price the same pipe was sold by them to the city was $45 35 per ton of 2240 pounds. The award is now made to the firm above alluded to at $47 50 per ton of 2000 pounds. Now the Portland Water company had some forty tons left on hand, and they offered the same to the committee's engineer at the cost price, and a member of the committee made a motion at the last meeting to buy the same, and the motion was duly seconded; but the member whose name appears as a bidder objected and the motion was ruled out of order by the chairman. There would have been a saving in this small lot of forty tons of more than $200. This is a small amount, it is true, to be saved to the city, but it serves to show with what interest a member of the committee, who is interested in a bid, will allow his duty as trustee to interfere with his self-interest.

Now, one word more to the committee. You are, to a certain extent, a self-appointed committee. You were not authorized by the people of Portland to employ attorneys to draw up bills to be presented to the legislature with your own names inserted as such committee. I doubt if twenty persons knew that such a bill was being drawn up. Yet you employed an attorney to draw up this bill before the meeting of the legislature—in which your names were inserted as a committee. You were then private citizens. After the passage of the act you paid the expense of drawing a this same bill, which you had no authority to contract for. Was this the proper thing to do? I was at Salem during the regular session of the legislature two years ago. There were at that time several amendments to the city charter proposed, one of which proposed putting the power to regulate the price of water in the hands of the city council. Members of the present water committee were present and were very urgent that the amendment should pass, because the price of water was one-half too high and could and should be reduced. There was not one word about impure water or Bull Run. Now, gentlemen, if water was too high by one-half then, why should it not be reduced one-half now that you have purchased the water company's works at a profit of $240,000, as stated by one of your committee? The bill under which you are acting puts most extraordinary authority in good hands with the power of perpetual succession—unless the next session of the legislature should amend the law in this respect. No poor man can serve on this most extraordinary committee although he is compelled to pay the extravagant water rates which, in the language of one of your members, "costs more than bread and should be free as air and never allowed to be in the hands of a corporation."

Now the people of Portland demand of you a strict compliance with law and a reduction of water rates to one-half of what you now charge. Wages are low for the laborer and provisions and rents are high. You have now $200,000 bonds on hand not yet sold, which I understand have already risen to 112. You may have a profit of $10,000 per annum after reducing your rates one-half. You have some $35,000 of premium on the sale of the $800,000; you have some $20,000 of the $800,000 in bonds which have been sold in hand. This will give you all the funds necessary to carry out any project you may have for repiping the city; consequently there is no reason why you should not at once reduce the water rates and in that carry out the arguments used before the passage of the act by the members of your committee.

Gentlemen, you are a public committee and your public acts are fit subjects for criticism, and the sooner you comply with the law in relation to doing business with the members of your own body, the better it will look, and the sooner you reduce the price of water to the laborer and suffering poor people the better. Respectfully yours,

D. P. THOMPSON.

GOOD SUGGESTION.

PORTLAND, Feb. 19.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

If Judge Boise is to continue as a lobbyist it would be well for the next legislature to make an appropriation of a few thousand dollars to enable the judge to make a voyage of discovery. By traveling over our own state and then over California he might acquire new and enlarged views and may possibly learn that the world moves. His horizon at present is circumscribed by Marion and Polk counties. If he could realize that there is a world outside of those two counties he might come to the conclusion that it is no use for him to lobby any more to stop the wheel of progress. We have precedents for such appropriations, for we often send Indians to Washington for the purpose of impressing upon their simple minds that there are big Boston men outside of the Indian reservations.

PROGRESS.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM CURED.

LYNDHURST, BERGEN CO., N. J., Feb. 10, 1886.

I have been a martyr to rheumatism, which affects me in the back and over each lung. I was afraid that I had consumption, but upon examination my lungs were found to be sound. I then ascertained that I was suffering with muscular rheumatism, which was so bad at night that I could not sleep. I used an ALLCOCK'S PLASTER on the small of my back and one under each shoulder blade. I renewed them every five days, and in a month I was entirely well.

WORK OF THE SESSION

A Complete and Accurate List of the New Laws.

BILLS THAT HAVE BEEN SIGNED

And Bills Still in the Hands of the Governor—Also a List of Memorials and Resolutions Adopted.

SALEM, Feb. 20.—During the legislative session just ended 435 bills were introduced—165 in the senate and 270 in the house. Of this number 112 were passed—59 by the senate and 53 by the house. Of the whole number 65 bills have been acted upon by the governor, and the remainder, 47, are in the executive office, awaiting consideration. On or before Wednesday next the governor must file these bills with the secretary of state, with or without his approval, and unless expressly vetoed they will become laws whether signed or not. All of the new acts will come into effect as laws ninety days after adjournment of the legislature, or on the 18th of May, unless there is express provision that they are to be in force immediately upon approval by the governor. Below is a list of the bills passed during the session. It has been compiled from enrolled copies now in possession of the governor or on file in the office of the secretary of state, and is positively accurate and complete. A list of such memorials and resolutions as are of general effect is added:

SENATE BILLS SIGNED.

No. 3, incorporating the town of Cottage Grove; went into effect upon approval.

No. 15, the Portland railroad bridge bill; passed over the governor's veto.

No. 16, amending the Prineville charter.

No. 17, providing for a health officer at Gardiner, at a salary of $400 a year.

No. 18, Hare's swamp land bill; went into effect on approval.

No. 26, amending the Salem charter; went into effect on approval.

Nos. 54 and 55, authorizing the lease of the O. R. & N. system to the Union Pacific; not signed by the governor, but became a law by limitation.

No. 52, Wager, abolishing the LaGrande land office.

No. 67, authorizing the Multnomah county court to build an armory; went into effect on approval.

No. 84, amending the Albany charter; went into effect on approval.

No. 89, providing for the sale of Baker City school house; went into effect on approval.

No. 90, amending the Marshfield charter.

No. 102, amending the Silverton charter; went into effect upon approval.

No. 117, amending the Astoria charter; went into effect on approval.

No. 134, amending the Hillsboro charter.

No. 135, providing that the Crook county court shall be held the first Monday in January and the first Monday in every alternate month thereafter.

No. 137, Miller, incorporating the town of Grant's Pass; goes into effect on approval by the electors of the town, to be decided at special election the first Monday in March.

No. 149, amending The Dalles charter; went into effect on approval.

No. 151, amending the Oakland charter; went into effect on approval.

THE VOICE OF ONE CRYING IN THE WILDERNESS.

CHENEY, W. T., Feb. 16.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

"Here we come; head us off; don't you see we are running away?"

Since the recent decisions of our supreme court in relation to woman suffrage and man's rights we are all lost, and won't somebody please tell us just where we stand?

The men and women of this territory had pretty fair reputations for intelligence, honesty and virtue before coming here, but there must be something in the climate that brings on softening of the brain. From all that can be learned we are without courts, without laws, without rights.

A long time ago in Oregon a bill was introduced in the legislature to give justices of the peace more jurisdiction. The irrepressible Jim Fay offered an amendment "to give them more brains." Can't we do the same for our Solons? Every two years we engage in an expensive political strife with the same old result. A pack of old political mullet heads who know as much about laws and the needs of the country as wild geese are sent to the legislature to bungle, botch and repeal all the laws we have and inflict upon us a mass of chaotic nothings that are most emphatically "without form and void." Then scain, four distinguished men learned in the uncommon law, are paid annually $14,000 to meet semi-occasionally and demonstrate to us what "a ass" the legislative body must have been. They cure our legislative stomach-ache with an emetic that is worse than the griping.

No wonder we are kept out of the Union; no wonder we are considered incapable of self-government. And we who simply want what is just and right are almost ready to cry out: "Give us war; give us pestilence; give us Chinamen; give us Pennoyer; give us h—ll; but for God's sake give us a little legislative and judicial rest!"

TO-DAY'S WEATHER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Indications for the twenty-four hours commencing February 21: Oregon and Washington territory, light rains.

OVERLAND PASSENGERS.

Passed Huntington to arrive over the Short Line: Mrs. B. Campbell, J. C. Smith, R. Jones, and 3 emigrants.

Passed Heron to arrive over the Northern Pacific: H. Connor, A. Kimball, C. Kimball, S. Dowdell, H. and wife, R. Flood, H. H. Martin and wife, E. G. Morton, Miss M. Ball, T. Roberts, and 17 immigrants.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Columbia crossed out at 1:30 yesterday afternoon.

The State of California arrived here at 8:30 last night.

Wonderful sight! Look at it now in Kohn's corner window, corner Second and Morrison streets.

The lecture next Wednesday evening in the social science course will be delivered by Mr. J. Couch Flanders, subject: Labor and capital.

The Portland Ministerial association will meet at 10:30 this morning in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. Rev. E. W Caswell will present a paper; subject, "City Evangelization."

The charge of adultery against Mrs. Dora Taake, preferred by her husband, was dismissed in Justice Dashiell's court, Taake having withdrawn the charge and paid the costs.

In the circuit court for Wasco county, in the case of Wadhams & Elliott vs. E. S. Merrill, judgment was rendered by default against Merrill and the property under execution ordered to be sold.

At yesterday's session of the Taylor street Methodist Sunday school resolutions were passed highly complimentary to Miss Ida Mulleneaux on account of her efficient services in the church and Sunday school, and of regret at her contemplated departure.

A band tournament is to be held at Pendleton on the 24th and 25th of June next, to be open for all amateur bands and all boy bands, whose averages do not exceed 14 years 6 months, in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Each band will play three selections. Premiums amounting to $1200 will be given.

The second term of the young women's night school will open Tuesday evening, February 22, at 16 Sixth street. The success of the term just closed has demonstrated that the enterprise was not undertaken before there was pressing need for it. Some of the best teaching talent of the city is engaged in it. Lend a hand!

The frame of the west end of the Morrison street bridge is up and by walking a single plank the east pier can be reached. Hundreds marched out there yesterday and stood on the stones gazing down at the slightly turbid current for hours as if trying to make up their minds whether the water was healthy or not, or whether the draw was wide enough.

One of the most interesting features of the short programme given at Mrs. M. S. Burrell's last Friday evening, on the occasion of the benefit entertainment for the free kindergartens, was the recitation of Miss Emma Friendly. She rendered the "Tragic Actor" with a great deal of pathos, showing careful study, together with unmistakable sparks of genius. The omission of her most excellent effort in yesterday's paper was purely accidental.

LECTURES AND SERMONS.

The Rev. L. Doughty, pastor of the First New Jerusalem Church, of San Francisco, author of "Hold Beyond," "Garden of Eden," etc., will deliver a course of lectures upon the destinctive doctrines of the New Church at the Portland tabernacle, commencing on Monday, February 28, 7:30 P. M., and to be continued during that, and, probably, the following week.

Religious services will be held at the same place on Sunday, February 27, and on the following two Sundays, the sermons to be on "Christian Faith and Practice," as taught in the formularies of that church. Services at 3 P. M.

In his lectures, Mr. Doughty will treat, among other subjects, upon the following:

Who was Emanuel Swedenborg?
Man as a Spiritual Being.
Heaven, Where and What is It?
Hell, Where and What is It?
What kind of Life do we Live beyond the Grave?
Who was and is Jesus Christ?
The Trinity Rationally Explained.
The Atonement.
The True Character of the Redemption and Salvation Wrought by our Lord.
The Second Advent, When and Where does It take Place?
The Resurrection of the Material Body not taught.
Is the Bible the Infallible Word of God?

Believing that there are undeniable evidences that the doctrines given to the world through Swedenborg, though scouted at and reviled by the [illegible] fifty years ago, are at the present moment being more and more studied, accepted and openly preached by the great leaders of religious thought, our fellow citizens of Portland are invited to listen to the evidences and explanations of doctrines, which we feel convinced will harmonize the Word of God with both reason and science, which teach the Lord Jesus Christ to be the divinely prepared and glorified medium through whom the Divine Love reaches and renovates the hearts of sinners, if only willing to yield themselves to his holy influences, and which also [illegible] and prove the holy scriptures to be plenarily to their very letter inspired by Almighty God, and, therefore, the eternal rule and guide of Christian faith and conduct.

DR. E. T. FRASER,
H. THIELSEN,
Com. of the Portland, Or., New Church Society

A WISE MOVE.

One must occasionally take a trip abroad in order to post themselves as to the methods adopted elsewhere. During Mrs. M. A. Winne's recent trip to San Francisco she saw much that was new, and among other things observed that all first-class sewing machine houses were kept in the most elegant style. The change wrought in Garrison's sewing machine depot, 167 Third street, is the outcome of it all. Now does the management take even more pleasure than ever in showing the popular "Domestic" and "Household," of which they speak in favorable terms. Mr. Garrison is still there, and is assisted by a competent corps in attending to the wants of people desiring these household commodities. For years we have had occasion to mention this house, and this time the writer is more gratified than ever in so doing.

THE STAGE.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—To-night the Thompson opera company inaugurate a season of comic opera at the New Market theater in that best pleasing and useful work of LeCocq, "Heart and Hand." The cast has been strengthened by the addition of Miss Laura Biggar, who will essay the role of Josefa which was so cleverly done by [illegible] upon the first production of the opera. The remainder of the cast will be the same as before: Miss Clement as Michaela, Miss Genevieve Reynolds as Donna Scholastica, Mr. Murray as the prince, Harry Brown as the king, and [illegible] Coventry as Morales. Popular prices will prevail.

PERSONAL.

Miss Sabin and Miss Bessie Thompson were at [illegible], Italy, near Naples, on the 1st inst.

Mr. O. E. Guernsey, cashier of the First National bank of Dubuque, Iowa, and wife arrived by the State of California last night and are registered at the Esmond.

C. P. McColl, formerly editor of the Weston Leader, has come with his family to reside in East Portland. Rumor has it that Mr. McColl will be interested in a new weekly paper to be started on the east side.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diptheria, and Canker Mouth. WOODARD, CLARKE & CO., Agents.

If you want the best Sewing Machine in the world, go to Garrison's Sewing Machine Store, 167 Third st., Portland, and examine the Domestic and Household. All others follow.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A HEARTLESS SCOUNDREL.—Ellis Eastwood, formerly of Huntsville, Columbia county, W. T., is in jail at Eugene City, awaiting the action of the grand jury, on the charge of running away with a girl under the age of 16 years. Eastwood is a married man, and a letter just received by the Lane county authorities from his sorrowing wife shows up the heartless scoundrel in his true colors. Mrs. Eastwood writes: "We were married August 13, 1876, in Story county, Iowa. I was only 16 years of age. My mother died before I met Eastwood. We have two children, aged 9 and 7 years, both boys. We left Iowa five years ago this spring and came to Baker City, Or. He immediately left home to get work, but only wrote me twice; then getting no more letters, I concluded that some accident had befallen him and made many inquiries about him. At that time we were living on a ranch, but I soon had to go to town to seek work for a living. However, he returned in about six months, without a dollar. He spoke of being at Eugene. After many promises of reformation, I again agreed to live with him, but had little faith in his promises until about one year ago, when he embraced religion, then all my fears left me. Last September he left our home in Columbia county, W. T., on the pretense of looking for work, and as time rolled by and hearing nothing of him I concluded he must have been killed. Then your letter came and told me the truth. I want you to tell that dear child that he ran away with, that I love her, and she has my prayers, and for her to be careful who she trusts. No good man would want a girl to leave home in that way. But, oh! my heart aches for Ellis. I love him, and yet I know he is not worthy of my love. I now bid him a long farewell. Until I got your letter I had a hope that he had not proved false."

RAISING THE STANDARD OF STENOGRAPHERS.—The stenographers seem to take a decided interest in the association recently formed in this city and now known as the Stenographers association of the Pacific northwest. At the meeting on Saturday quite a number of shorthanders, including several ladies joined the association. The membership is now large and active, embracing writers in the different recognized systems. The growth of stenography in this city has been quite marked during the past six years. In 1880, outside of the railroad offices and one or two court reporters, there were very few stenographers employed. At this time many of the wholesale houses employ them and it is safe to say the number of young men and ladies in Portland earning their living in this profession is not less than sixty. There is a marked difference between the shorthand writer who is an amanuensis and the court reporter. A person who writes at the rate of 125 or even 100 words per minute can, if intelligent, make a very fair amanuensis. An efficient court reporter must have a speed of not less than 150 words per minute, and when pushed he should be capable of reaching even 200 words. There are in this city probably a half dozen capable and efficient court reporters. The system of tests required by the by-laws of the association to entitle a writer to membership will have a tendency to elevate the standard of shorthand writing in this city, and if this be the result the organization will have accomplished a good purpose.

BOYS AND GIRL'S AID SOCIETY.—At the last regular monthly meeting of the trustees of this society the executive committee reported that, since their preceding meeting, fifteen applications had been made to them for help. Children had asked for protection against the cruelty of parents; parents having lost control of their children, had come asking for advice, and, in some cases special assistance; the interests of children in the courts had been looked after, and homes had been secured for children who had none, or, what is worse, had brutal ones. These cases differ widely in character and in method of treatment, but each received the personal attention of one or more members of the committee, some of them requiring hours and even days of effort and hard work to be properly disposed of. But many a child is thus placed amid favorable surroundings who might otherwise fall into the slums of vice and become a victim of institutional life. The society also reported progress in finding out and trying to destroy some of the meshes that are set to ensnare neglected children, notably, in preventing boys from congregating in the streets at night and in holding junk dealers responsible for buying stolen goods. If it can reach gambling dens and the sale of cigarettes it will have struck bedrock. The object of the society is one that should receive encouragement and support from the entire community.

OUTRAGE ON A POOR WOMAN.—From Southern Oregon exchanges are obtained the following particulars of the dastardly outrage committed by John Carter, the stage driver between Lakeview and Bly, on a defenseless woman. It seems that a party of emigrants on the road to Lakeview was overtaken by the stage. Several of the party were on foot some of them being women. Carter remarked that he was sorry that he could not accommodate the ladies to a seat in the stage, but could and would accommodate one of them and extended an invitation to any one that would accept a seat with him, saying that it would not cost her a cent into Lakeview. One of the women name Hauge, willingly accepted the invitation as the travel was very rough, and took the proffered seat beside the driver. After going some distance he began to take improper liberties with her, and she was severely bruised in the struggle to prevent the brute from accomplishing his purpose. The following day the emigrants arrived and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Carter, who had started back. The warrant was placed in the hands of the sheriff, who followed Carter, and overtaking him in Drew's valley arrested him and took him back to Lakeview.

LOOKS LIKE A CASE OF DESERTION.—Something over three months ago Wm. T. Spilman, who kept the refreshment stand in the city park last summer, went up to Albany in search of work. He secured employment on the Oregon Pacific under John Hamilton, who had charge of G. W. Hunt's contract. Spilman did not write to his wife for some weeks, but finally she received two short notes from him and since that time, some two months since, she has not heard from him and naturally fears she has been deserted. She has been very sick and suffered greatly during the cold weather, being very poorly provided for, and, but for the kind attentions of Parkkeeper Myers and his wife, might have perished. The German Aid society have furnished Mrs. Spilman and her little ones with necessary clothing and food and will probably see that they do not want. But the question is, what has become of Spilman? If any one at Albany can furnish any information as to his whereabouts, they will confer a favor on his anxious wife. Parties in that town who have been connected with construction work on the Oregon Pacific may be able to tell what has become of Spilman.

GULLS.—There has evidently been heavy weather at the mouth of the Columbia judging from the large number of sea gulls disporting in the river in front of the city yesterday. There were white gulls and gray gulls and pied gulls, and very gracefully they looked as they wheeled and circled around or rested on the water. But when the cook of a steamboat at the foot of Washington street emptied a bucket of swill overboard, presto! what a change took place. Such a screeching and flapping of wings and racing and chasing as took place was wonderful. Every gull who got a crust or a piece of meat was chased by every gull who had none till he was forced to drop it, and the one who seized it was chased in turn till it looked as if the gulls were taking off the actions of the elite of Washington on the occasion of the Chinese ambassador's dinner party.

IS THE DEFENDANT DEAD?—Hon. J. F. Caples left yesterday for Union, Oregon, where he will defend the suit of the administrator of Charles Legore's estate against Wm. Bennett for $5000 damages, which comes up this week. On the 5th of last July Bennett, who owed Legore a grudge, fired upon and killed him as he was returning through Indian valley with his family, from a Fourth of July celebration. Bennett was tried, convicted of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. A man in Bennett's condition is civilly dead according to law, and this question will be raised in the trial: Can an action lie against the defendant in person while he is serving a life sentence in state's prison? Mr. Bennett is not likely to be on hand to see the case tried.

PIANO IMPROVEMENTS.—The American Art Journal, an authority on musical matters, refers to the recent exhibit in Chicago of the Chickering piano, with its improvements in scales, action and cases. To the experts the great features were the new repeating action and the new scale. The former makes the repetition of uprights as perfect as that of a grand. The tone quality of all the instruments appears to combine all that the most critical could desire, being brilliant, rich and powerful, well sustained and resonant. The exhibition proved a most successful one, and was attended by dealers from the large cities of the West.

COAL MINING IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—The report of James H. Watson, territorial inspector of mines, shows that the grand total of tons of coal mined in the territory for last year was 988,699.56. The average number of men engaged in mining during the year was 929, and the average output per man engaged, 422.5 tons. The report shows only one life lost for every 65,000 tons of coal mined.—Tacoma News.

SHRAPNEL SHELL FOR SHOT.—A new invention for the benefit of sportsman was brought out from the East by Frank T Dodge on his return from Washington a short time since. It is a shrapnel shell for shot. It consists of a globe of thin brass in two parts in which the charge of shot is placed. Each half has little ears with holes through which a needle runs to hold them together. One end of this needle is fixed in the wad below the globe and the other projects beyond it. When the wad with the globe attached is fired from the gun the wad is retarded by the atmosphere and the globe gradually gains on it and finally slips off the needle and flies apart allowing the shot to scatter. The time when or rather the distance at which this occurs is regulated by the length of the needle. The object of the invention is to enable the sportsman to kill at a greater distance with shot than is possible by the old method of loading. As long as the shot is confined in the brass globe it travels like a bullet, and when set free it will continue to go as much farther as shot can be fired with effect in the old way. For instance, if geese or swan are sitting a hundred and fifty yards out on a lake, you have a needle long enough to hold the globe together for one hundred and twenty-five yards, and then when it parts the shot will scatter and travel the remaining twenty-five yards and kill the birds. It is difficult to see how it can be made available for any shooting, but for long shots at game sitting it may prove very effective.

WILL NOT REPEAT THEIR MISTAKE.—Yesterday afternoon an OREGONIAN man came down in a Washington street car with a well known contractor and builder. They talked about the bright prospects for the coming season and this brought up the subject of Portland's future. Said the contractor: "Portland is in a better position than Kansas City was fifteen years ago, and has ten times as much wealth as Kansas City had then. I made the mistake of my life, not buying real estate there and holding it. When I was working 'jour' work, I owned a lot that cost $2000 and sold it at a slight advance. To-day it is worth $30,000. 'Boss' Corrigan, who had the same start that I had, staid by the town, and a short time ago sold his street railway interest for $3,000,000. The railroad crowd made the same mistake. Prescott and Rowe, and Maxwell were there, and they neglected their opportunity, as the rest of us did. But we'll not make the mistake again. Portland fifteen years from now may not have so many people as Kansas City has to-day, but it will be a considerable city, and property any place in the corporation limits will advance as rapidly in proportion as Kansas City property has. Perhaps Oregon will not settle up as fast as Kansas and Western Missouri did, but immigration is certain to come, and Portland will be the distributing center, and will have no rival.

HER MIND NOT ON THE GAME.—Out in the west end there is a whist club composed of middle-aged ladies and gentlemen who meet once a week. An incident occurred last week which broke off amicable relations between two families. A gentleman who shall be called Mr. Brooks had for a partner a neighbor lady who played whist fairly—for a woman. Games were even, and the score was six and six on the seventh game. It was during the last hand that the unpleasantness occurred. Mr. Brooks and his partner had five tricks and their opponents six. Eleven trumps had been played and two cards remained. It was Mr. Brooks' partner's lead. She fumbled nervously several seconds, undecided which card to play. Evidently she held the commanding trump and was considering whether if she led the trump she would find the thirteenth in her partner's hand, and whether it were not better to lead the odd suit card, allowing her partner's trump, if he held it, to fall, thus securing the game. Under these circumstances, if they existed, a good player might be forgiven for slight delay, but after fumbling several seconds longer, the lady laid both cards face down on the table and inquired of the lady on her right: "Maggie, where did you get those eggs that you put under the speckled hen?" Mr. Brooks left the table, rushed to the hall, and quitted the house without the formality of saying good night.

THE FOOD TOO RICH.—Speaking to a man who has been collecting a band of young cattle in the Willamette valley to drive into the Yakima country, a reporter inquired if this were not rather an unfavorable time to drive cattle out on the ranges. "No," was the reply, "this is the proper time. They must be taken out as early as possible. These webfoot cattle never saw such grass as there is on the range and if they were not taken out till the grass is good they would eat till they killed themselves. Take them on the range before the grass is fairly started and they will eat a lot of old dry with the green grass and become acclimated, and when the grass gets good they will grow fat and will get through the next winter all right." The Eastern Oregon cattleman evidently has a poor idea of the intelligence of the Willamette valley cattle, probably gained through experience.

A CONFESSED MURDERER.—Carlton Force, living at Camp creek, in Crook county, has written to his father in The Dalles, says the Times-Mountaineer, stating that the man from whom he had purchased his ranch recently died about twelve miles from Prineville, and on his deathbed confessed having, in company with two others, murdered an old lady in Oregon City many years ago for her money. The man led a most miserable existence, and appeared to have wasted almost to a shadow. Death was a welcome relief to him, for he seemed to have been haunted by some dread spectre. Mr. Force did not give the name of the person who made the confession or the woman killed; but it is thought the latter was Mrs. Hagar, who was killed near Oregon City in 1879, and for whose murder a young man is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary.

ANOTHER LIGHTHOUSE NEEDED.—A Florence correspondent of the Eugene City Register writes: "There is no light between Capes Foulweather and Arago, a distance of about eighty-five miles. A lighthouse should be erected in the vicinity of Siuslaw. Cape Perpetua is about midway between Foulweather and Arago, and offers a fine location. A light either there or at the harbor entrance on the Lookout would serve to assist captains of coasting vessels in obtaining their bearings and to prevent such accidents as befell the Emma Utter, that went ashore in calm weather and whose captain supposed his ship to be many miles to the westward of Siuslaw and well away from land."

FEARS OF DISASTER UNFOUNDED.—The Seattle Post-Intelligencer says: "Capt. Carter of the Ivanhoe reports being within a mile of the long-looked-for bark Templar about eight days ago and says she is all safe and may be looked for any day. Capt. Carter also said that he experienced very heavy weather coming up the coast, gales from the northwest. The Ivanhoe was twenty-four days in reaching Port Townsend." The Templar arrived in safety the next day at Port Townsend, having been thirty days out from San Francisco. The Nellie May, also reported lost, arrived safely in company with the Templar.

THE MILITARY BAND AN ATTRACTION.—Events of the character on foot for Tuesday evening require music of a high order, and happily the Vancouver band was disengaged. They will be over to the Turners' masquerade, as also a delegation from the garrison city. A parade of the Turners, in costume, will take place to-morrow at 10 A. M. The novelties for to-morrow evening are very numerous, as will be seen by the programmes. The committee on costumes will be found daily in Turn Halle building.

FINE BANK.—The most neatly furnished of the banks of Salem is the Capital National bank presided over by J. H. Albert. The large vault is to all appearances strong enough to protect its contents from even dynamiters. The fittings are of Oregon ash, giving the bank a bright, cheerful appearance. There is plenty of coin in sight, giving evidence of the large amount of business done by this concern.

STORING ICE.—The Portland Artificial Ice company recently completed a large warehouse on Eleventh and Washington for the storage of ice. Workmen have been busy lately filling this building with blocks of frozen water. There will be an abundance of ice the coming summer in Portland.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will deliver an opinion in this court this morning in the case of Joshua Taylor against Fleckenstein and Silvestone, on motion for a new trial.

THE NEXT PIONEERS' REUNION.

Last Friday a meeting of the committee of arrangements of the next Oregon Pioneers association was held at the Commercial National Bank, Chairman Joseph Watt presiding and every member present; also Capt. Medorem Crawford, who had been invited by the chairman. The following minutes of the meeting of the board of directors were read, and are published for the benefit of all concerned:

A meeting of the board was held at Salem Jan. 18 and 19. There were present M. Wilkins, president; Geo. H. Himes, secretary; J. M. Bacon, treasurer; and Joseph Watt and F. X. Mathieu.

A resolution was passed authorizing the secretary to canvass for funds for the association among those in Portland who are eligible to membership by reason of their having settled in Oregon prior to 1855.

A resolution was passed memorializing the legislature to appropriate funds to erect a suitable monument to the memory of the late Dr. John McLoughlin, of Oregon City, and to place it in the state house.

A resolution of thanks to the legislature for setting apart, for the special use of the association, a room in the state house, for the reception of its relics and documents, was unanimously passed, and the room was placed in the custody of Hon. R. P. Earhart during his pleasure.

The report of J. M. Bacon, treasurer, was read. It showed an indebtedness against the association of about $90, without taking into account funds necessary to publish transactions of the annual reunion of 1886.

After considerable discussion, Portland was chosen as the place at which the annual reunion for 1887 should be held. This will occur on Wednesday, June 15. Jos. Watt, Hon. D. P. Thompson, Frank Dekum, Charles W. Knowles, Clark Hay and George H. Himes, were appointed a committee of arrangements, with power to add to their number and appoint sub-committees; Col. John McCraken was chosen grand marshal, with power to select his own aids.

Jepthah Garrison, of Yamhill county, and D. J. Stover, of Clackamas county, were elected standard-bearers.

Rev. J. L. Parrish, of Salem, was chosen chaplain. Rev. I. D. Driver was elected to deliver the annual address and Hon. George L. Woods, the occasional address, conditioned upon their acceptance.

A request was made unanimously that Hon. Willard H. Rees, of Butteville, prepare biographical sketches of deceased pioneers, among them Hons. J. W. Nesmith, G. L. Curry, Geo. Abernethy, A. C. Gibbs, Absalom Hembree, John H. Couch, and others, for publication with the transactions of 1886.

The question of the indebtedness of the association was discussed at length. After due consideration, inasmuch as all expenses of the organization since its existence up to this time—a period of more than fifteen years—amounting to some thousands of dollars, had been derived from membership dues and individual subscriptions, it was thought best to petition the legislature for relief. Accordingly, Hon. R. P. Earhart was appointed a committee of one to attend to this matter. No further business appearing, the board adjourned sine die.

The above having been read, Mr. Watt said the object of the committee's appointment was apparent.

The secretary announced that Rev. I. D. Driver had consented to deliver the annual address, but that Hon. George L. Woods declined to make the occasional address owing to professional duties. Whereupon, Hon. George B. Curry, of Ashland, was selected to fill that place, and the secretary instructed to correspond with him.

Mrs. Theo. Wygant, Mrs. R. B. Wilson, Mrs. W. M. Molson and Mrs. Matthew P. Deady were added to the committee.

After an estimate as to expenses was made Clark Hay and Geo. H. Himes were authorized to solicit sufficient funds to defray them.

D. P. Thompson was appointed a committee to arrange for a reduction of fares by the transportation companies centering in Portland.

Wm. Kapus was selected as a committee to arrange for music and generally to manage all plans as to the hall, decorations, etc.

Arrangements were perfected whereby the exercises of the day and evening will be held in the Mechanics' pavilion.

The matter of a monument for Dr. McLoughlin was discussed at length and the idea given up, as it was not deemed feasible. Instead thereof the subject of a life-size oil portrait was considered, and after discussion it was unanimously voted that, as there was an excellent artist now in the state, Hon. D. P. Thompson be appointed a committee to engage his services therefor, and to arrange for the speedy prosecution of the work, with a view of the portrait being placed on exhibition at the coming reunion, and afterwards being placed in an appropriate position in the state senate chamber in the state house. Several subscriptions were made for this purpose by those present and the necessary funds will certainly be secured to place in a conspicuous position a memorial to the beloved doctor, who more than any other one man was a benefactor to the early pioneers of Oregon.

DEATH OF A PIONEER WOMAN.

Sunday morning, February 20, at 7:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. C. E. Bray, in this city, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth White, beloved wife of Col. W. L. White, closed her weary eyelids and passed away from the earth earthy to that future from whence there is no return. Surrounded by relatives, a husband, and those whom she had brought into the world, with an admonition that will always be sacred, and a blessed good-bye upon her pale lips, she went peacefully into that last sleep from which she will awaken only to emerge into the sunlight of the Great Beyond.

Mrs. White was born in Spottsylvania county, Va., September 23, 1822, and was the daughter of Elijah and Ann Partlow. In company with her parents she moved to the western district of Tennessee in 1836, and in 1839 was married to Col. W. L. White. In 1850, in company with her husband, she arrived in Oregon, and since then her constant home has been in Oregon City, where she has won the love of many, who will miss her and who will realize that her place in their affections can never be filled. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, two daughters, Anna E. Rhoades and Rebecca T. Bray, and one son, Allen G. White; besides a twin sister, Mrs. Martha A. Barlow, wife of Wm. Barlow, a pioneer of 1845; a brother, James Partlow of East Portland, and a host of friends who were near and dear to her. The remains will be removed to Oregon City on Tuesday, and laid away in the village cemetery, overlooking the little home where she spent so many happy hours, the funeral being conducted under the direction of Wm. Barlow, with Rev. S. P. Davis officiating.

Thus, one by one, as the days and the weeks roll by, as summers come and go, the pioneers of Oregon pass on to mingle with those who have gone on before, leaving behind them those who, with snow-white locks and trembling steps, are waiting for the final call that shall summons them to the throne of Him whose most comforting words shall be "Well done, good and faithful servant." And as the cypress boughs murmer a sweet requiem over the resting place of one more who has passed away, let us hope that the last sleep of those who follow after may be as deeply beautiful as that of Mary E. White, one of the pioneers of the state now made thrifty from toiling hands like hers. *

THE O. R. & N. LEASE.

Portland to be the Actual Terminus of Three Transcontinental Railways.

A Position Occupied by No Other City on the Pacific Coast.

Over Five Million Dollars to be Expended in Improvements in Portland and Vicinity During the Current Year.

THE O. R. & N. LEASE HAS BEEN LEGALized by an act of the Oregon Legislature, and it is now an indisputable fact that Portland is to be the competing point and actual terminus of the three great transcontinental railway lines—the Union, Northern and Southern Pacific. This means increased business, increased wealth, increased population, and a rapid rise in city and suburban property, of which we have over 200 pieces, which we are offering at prices that will enable everyone to secure a home before the boom. In addition to our list of residence properties, we have a number of choice pieces of business property in Portland, East Portland, Albina and Salem, to which the attention of Eastern investors is called. If you want to secure a home and an independence at the same time through an investment in real estate, don't wait until Portland assumes the proportions of Kansas City, which it will in the course of five years, but make it at once, and thereby secure the benefit of the rise.

Below will be found a partial list of our property, the ownership of which is sure to enrich the lucky purchaser:

$5250—SPLENDID LOT, 60x50, ON TENTH street, containing one five and one seven-room modern design cottage, renting for $25 and $20 respectively; good well on premises; also hot and cold water by tanks in each house; patent closets, sewer connections, etc. Street and sidewalk improved, and located within one block of street cars in the most desirable part of the city. Terms, one-half cash, balance on time.

$2600—LOT 30x100 ON TENTH ST., CONtaining a seven-room cottage in splendid condition; patent closets, etc.; rents for $20, street and sidewalk improved, and located within 100 feet of street railway, in the most promising part of the city. Terms, one-half cash balance on time.

$1200—WILL BUY TWO BEAUTIFUL lots in Proebstel's addition to Albina.

$[illegible]250—SECURES ONE OF THE BEST located blocks in Tibbett's addition to East Portland.

$[illegible]0,000—THREE-QUARTER BLOCK IN Salem, corner of Liberty and State sts., containing two good dwellings and one business house.

SATURDAY Feb 19

Overland receipts include 40 bls compressed cotton car wagons 60 bls broom corn, 1 organ 1 cs woolens, 30 cs lard 3 safes 25 bdls sheet iron, 46 bxs stamped ware 10 cles pans, 2 cs c p goods, 3 cs table oil cloth

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past twenty four hours 1985 ctls wheat, 102 bbls flour, 930 ctls oats 280 sks potatoes, 4300 lbs hides 5 cs butter, 18 cs eggs, 429 bxs fruit, 22 bxs dried do, 75 cattle.

WHEAT—The cargoes market continues the good feeling inaugurated about Wednesday and to-day California prompt shipment is up to 37s 9d. New York and Chicago are easy to lower. San Francisco quiet but transactions show rather better prices. Here $1 30 for Walla Walla and $1 36¼@1 37½ are continued as quotations in the absence of new business. While holders are firm there is no pressure to buy hence the market is not changed. Receipts rule light and include some valley for San Francisco on old contract

OATS—Better feeling in the shipping market, but business is still out of the question. Receipts noted to-day are for local account, but stocks are low. Dealers pay 48@50c readily

POTATOES—Garnets quoted $1 15, but some dealers continue to pay $1 20 while the shipping market is nearer $1 10@1 16. Burbanks taken at $1 40@1 50. The request for seeding in California is thought to be well over and when ended the demands for consumption may not take offerings

ONIONS—Market easy for shipment $1 50@1 75 being extremes possible

PROVISIONS—Very little now coming but stocks of both local and Eastern are more than equal to demands and values are no more than steady. The good tone East serves to strengthen the views of large holders here.

EGGS—Receipts appear to be readily absorbed and the market rules steady at 25c.

DRIED FRUITS—Supplies not at all heavy and there is only a small receipt. The request is fair prices as a rule being steady

POULTRY—Chickens continue in full supply but the lower prices keep stocks down. Sales of common to good are at $3@3 50 choice rather higher. Turkeys have sold at about 12½c. Geese have sold up close the best at about $

HOPS—A few contracts ahead are spoken of but no particular amount of business has been done in this way. The New York market continues dull under very light demands business being for the the most part in English at 1[illegible]@2[illegible]c, and choice German at [illegible]@26c

WOOL—Markets generally very quiet and without change or new feature

TIN AND PLATES—New York mail dates note an irregular market for tin because of fluctuations in London. The request for plates had slackened both for spot and futures and with more disposition to sell values were easier. At English shipping ports there was some accumulation and hence greater anxiety to sell

SALMON—With March several canners will begin making cans and there will be noted more general activity in the way of preparing for the spring pack. Fishermen will probably hold out for about 80@90c per fish. Canners have not a little material and vessels about due from England have more.

HIDES—A local price current says A large proportion of green hides received are grubby, and many are spoiled for want of care on part of shipper. Bulls, stags moth eaten badly cut hair slipped, weatherbeaten or those having five or more grubs in are always culls and sell for one-third less than good. All beef hides should have ears, snouts and shanks off. If on when received, must be cut off here or allowance made for weight of same. Dry 16c, green 7@7½c

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb 19—The stock market showed the same dullness and narrowness which has marked it during previous days this week. The opening was firm to strong with first prices generally ¼@⅜ above last night's closing figures. The market was tame and spiritless, and while there was some heaviness in early dealings there was, after a time, a steady hardening of values until noon. Missouri Pacific Kansas & Texas, New England and Western Union showed the greatest strength. A period of extreme dullness succeeded during which slight fractions were lost. Nickle Plate common being prominent for weakness. An advance in Kansas & Texas then took place and the improvement was shared by the entire list the market closing dull and steady at the advance.

Mining shares were dull and steady at the following prices bid: Bodie $3, Mono $2 90, Bulwer $1 20, El Cristo $2 75, Stanislaus $2 15, Hale & Norcross $6 12½, Yellow Jacket $5 62½, California & Virginia $19 50.

Government bonds were dull and steady

PROHIBITION THAT DIDN'T PROHIBIT.

PORTLAND, Feb 19

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Since those who didn't know better from having been present would imagine from the prohibitionists' report of the incident that occurred last Thursday at the Temperance alliance, as it appeared in your Friday's issue, that I had interfered with its deliberations and raised a personal "squabble" on my own account, I beg permission to state the facts as they transpired

I was not a delegate and not being in sympathy with the prohibition movement did not attend till the afternoon of the second day when I called as a spectator merely. There was a marked sensation as I entered the church, and in a very few minutes I was informed by numerous delegates that Jane E. Weeden J W Webb and I D Driver had been slurring me at such frequent intervals that it looked as if the main business before the alliance was to smirch my reputation. At first I took no notice of the reports but I soon learned that Driver, thinking I was fifty miles away had openly charged me with the drink habit saying it was a matter of history I was accustomed to have brandy and whisky sent to my room at hotels etc. Then I sent this reverend follower of the meek and lowly Jesus a note asking if he had been accurately reported. He did not reply to the note but set himself to work with the other shining lights on the platform to compel President Miller to prohibit me from resenting the outrage though how it was that they expected to enhance prohibition by sustaining Driver in attempting to brand a lifelong teetotaler as a drunkard is known only to prohibition agitators, whose ways are nothing if not peculiar

I attended the evening session and kept my seat in silence waiting for a vacancy in the programme which I knew would come though they had striven hard to make it impossible. Then I arose to a question of privilege in spite of them and refuted Driver's statement and demanded his authority. He gave the name of Sayers who he said, was a hotel keeper at Port Townsend, a man of whom I knew nothing. When I took my seat after giving that parting shot about murdering four women' Driver took the floor and regaled us all with another course of drivelling gossip to which I should have replied if Miller hadn't shut me off by the aid of the hoodlums in the rear that Elder Hines had just told a lady on the platform that Driver was stale in quoting Sayers for the man had been dead for several years, and nobody believed him while he was living

It is but just to the alliance to say in conclusion that although there was not a man in it who was brave enough to take open exception to such indecent personalities against a lady in her absence there were plenty to defend me when I appeared upon the scene and resolved to defend myself and the resolution they passed denouncing the "impulsive speakers" who had descended to such depths was offered, as a rebuke to the parties above named and unanimously accepted before I had spoken at all.

Prof Miller was placed in a trying position by the mandates of a few clergymen who were far less righteous than he and it gives me pleasure to state in conclusion that I believe he tried to do his duty

ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNIWAY

THE STEEVES CASE

PORTLAND, Feb 19

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In Thursday morning's issue I see you published a communication from Observer attempting to whitewash N N Steeves. As another "observer" who was present and heard the testimony, I have a few remarks to make in this connection. In my opinion it does not matter whether Mr Steeves had notice or not of his contemplated prosecution. The question is whether the testimony adduced made his character like Cæsar's wife, above suspicion

As Mr Espey had already caused Mr Steeves to be published as a fraud his reasons for verifying the accusations are unnecessary to discuss. It was nowhere adduced in the testimony that either Judges Kelly or Stott, or the state library were selling law books to Mr Steeves yet books belonging to them and to the state library were found in his possession with the names of the former owners erased and Mr Steeves name therein in his own handwriting. And the testimony on this subject was from witnesses of undisputed character who had no personal interest in the result of the examination and although he had over six weeks in which to meet his "inquisitors" he could give no satisfactory explanation and the learned judge excused him on the ground that those who had lost their books had not joined in a wholesale verification of the accusations

But even the tender heart of the learned judge who heard the case could not quite stand the effort on the part of Steeves to "purchase" a witness in the back room of a saloon so he referred that matter to the district attorney and the grand jury and taxed half the costs of the "inquisition" against Mr Steeves. And as this traffic in veracity was developed since the accusations were filed and not before the court, he only passed on it as above.

The "inquisition," as "Observer" has pleased to style it was instituted by members of the bar, not to reimburse Mr Steeves' ex clients or to seek redress for the parties whose books were "misappropriated" or money lost but to maintain the purity and honor of their profession

If passing on a title to real property as "C K" when there is an unsatisfied judgment against it for the entire purchase price is legal acumen and ability, if trafficking in testimony and misappropriation of fellow lawyers books is integrity then this "Observer's" early training as to what constitutes ability and integrity was a delusion

As to his social standing and attainments I have no further observation to make than such qualities are very common with New York lawyers

ANOTHER "OBSERVER."

AFTERMATH OF THE SESSION

Unpleasantness between Senators—The Railway Commission.

SALEM, Feb. 19—The town looks deserted. The whole army of lobbyists has cleared out, and less than half a dozen members remain.

About the most unpleasant incident of the session occurred this morning in the hall of the senate. President Carson, who was about to start for home, offered to shake hands with Gray, of Clatsop, when the latter repulsed him, saying

"You are no gentleman, sir. I don't know you, and will not take your hand"

Gray's anger grows out of Carson's ruling in the matter of the speech which he did not have an opportunity to deliver and which has been referred to in this correspondence. Those who witnessed the encounter this morning declare that Gray's action was unjustifiable, even if all he claims is true

Among the candidates for the position of railroad commissionership is Joseph Gaston, who is said to be the author of the commission bill. He is backed by a petition to the governor and Judge Boise is among the signers. George L. Wagner, of Benton, and formerly member of the legislature, is also a candidate for the place. T W Davenport also is understood to be a candidate, and it is believed by many that the governor has promised him the place. It is reported that the governor has decided to make Mr Gibbons, of The Dalles, the defeated candidate for secretary of state, the democratic member of the commission

A. H

Row at the Asylum

SALEM, Feb. 19—Frazer, bookkeeper at the asylum, and Dr Josephi had a quarrel this morning, which is supposed to be the outcome of the discharge of Beatty. As the story goes, Frazer had notice to attend the state grand jury, and previous to starting Josephi asked him for his keys, telling him in the next breath that he was discharged. On this representation Frazer refused to deliver over the keys, and Josephi made a move to take them from him, when Frazer knocked him down. Josephi called for assistance and Barlow, acting supervisor since Beatty's resignation, responded. A general scuffle ensued, finishing with Josephi calling for additional assistance to hold Frazer and Frazer running up stairs to his room, followed by Barlow and Josephi. On gaining the room Frazer picked up an unloaded revolver and bluffed Josephi and Barlow off holding them at bay for about ten minutes, or until two attaches, Cook and Ward appeared on the scene and informed Frazer that it was time to go to court, and that they had notice to accompany him, being also subpœnaed. Josephi called on Cook and Ward to witness that Frazer had drawn a revolver and Frazer on the same parties to witness that it was not loaded. The grand jury visited the asylum Friday and this, together with the Beatty case is said to be another circumstance in bringing about the row. How it will end remains to be seen. Frazer it is reported has been suspended

"The People Everywhere Depend on It."

(White River Pilot)

THE DAILY OREGONIAN has passed its twenty seventh birthday. It is not only the oldest daily but is unquestionably the ablest and best on the northwest coast. While it is essentially a newspaper devoted to gathering and disseminating facts and information it is ever ready and able to discuss matters of public importance as well as to give space to the opinions of others however they may differ from its own. Its reliability and enterprise are so generally recognized that the people everywhere depend on it

NEW YORK'S MEAT SUPPLY

NEW YORK, Feb 19—The Mail and Express says: A big fight is at hand and the prize is the meat supply of New York city. Three opposing armies have been struggling and planning during the past year against each other. Each possesses ammunition to the amount of $9 000 000. Slight skirmishes have been fought during the last few months, followed by a lull during the week just passed. However a scheme has been unearthed which for boldness and enterprise is unparalleled in the history of the cleaver. The National Consumers Meat company is its author and has succeeded in surprising its foes the Chicago dressed beef men and the city slaughterers. This is the scheme. The sale of Chicago dressed beef and city slaughtered carcasses is about even in New York. Last March the National Consumers' Meat company opened five retail stores in this city. It shipped dressed carcasses direct from the Montana range country, and thus became a rival not only of the city slaughterers and the Chicago dressed beef men, but also of the retail butchers. With its forces concentrated and its capital multiplied it will make a vigorous and diplomatic attack on the city slaughterers and the Chicago men. Thus it proposes to bring the retail butchers to its side by purchasing every shop in New York for cash by making the proprietor a stockholder in the company and retaining him as manager of the business transferred. The company of course will supply all these stores with its own meat and owning every retail establishment in the city there will be no other outlet for any other stock. This means total abolition of city slaughtering and of all shipments of Chicago dressed beef to New York. The movement it will be seen, is a very bold one

DE MORES CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

The Marquis de Mores, who is general of the consumers' force is very confident of success though reluctant at present to disclose details of the scheme in question. "Our plan" he said yesterday "is not to sell at wholesale to retail butchers as seems to be the general impression. We desire to bring our stock direct to the consumer. Our company is to be merged into another very large syndicate and having abundant capital we propose to buy up every retail butcher store in this city either for cash or stock. If our negotiations are not successful why we can open three or four hundred independent retail shops. We first desire to give every retail butcher a chance to dispose of his business. The city slaughterer cannot compete with us"

A E Foster of Kansas City the company's western manager who was present during the interview said that any possible opposition from the Chicago Dressed Beef company was not considered at present

Interviews with leading wholesale butchers are given. They are generally of the opinion that the plan won't work. They say that it will take about twenty million to begin with to buy all the retail stores. That this however will not give the company the trade as its meat is not equal in quality to city dressed and that opposition shops will spring up all around those of the syndicate

Managers here of the Chicago dressed beef houses did not think much of the scheme

ITALY

CARDINAL GIBBONS AND THE POPE.

ROME Feb 20—Cardinal Gibbons has been very busy since his arrival here. No definite information as to the business of the propaganda is known, but it is certain that great questions touching Catholic interests in America will be considered carefully. Cardinal Gibbons is expected to express an opinion on all questions submitted for his views because of his great acquaintance with present American questions and his strong love for American institutions. It is difficult to believe that the conclusion reached will be of an unfavorable character. Time is still required for settlement of the cardinals in the curia

Bishops Carr of Melbourne and Keane of Richmond Va. congratulated the pope in the Vatican to day upon the ninth anniversary of his pontificate. The pope in his discourse described the Baltimore council as an honor to America and to the whole church. Bishop Keane afterward thanked the pope

RUSSIA AND THE HOLY SEE

ROME Feb 19—It is stated that the Russian government in consequence of what it considers the pope's excessive claims has rejected the proposal to establish diplomatic relations with the Holy See. Cardinal Jacobini is still endeavoring to arrange the matter

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A MOTHER MORTALLY WOUNDED WHILE DEFENDING HER CHILD

CINCINNATI, Feb 19—A horrible crime was committed on Mount Adams this city, between 9 and 10 o clock to-night. It was the mortal wounding of Mrs Matilda Warren by Edward Jordan a drunken desperado. Mrs Warren's daughter was trundling her infant daughter in a baby wagon on the sidewalk in front of the house when Ed. Jordan came along reeling drunk and upset the baby wagon in the gutter and pushed the terrified little girl into the street. Mrs Warren rushed out in defense of her baby protesting as she went against Jordan's brutality. The villain waited till she got within a few feet of him, and then shot her through the lungs. She is not dead, but her wounds are mortal. Jordan escaped. If found in Mount Adams to-night he will never see daylight.

OLYMPIA Feb 20—Last evening City Marshal Guyot arrested a man on suspicion of being the same one who has been burglarizing several houses in East Olympia recently. On searching him skeleton keys and a razor containing a diamond for cutting glass were found and a pair of pantaloons which he had stolen a few days before. The fellow had recently served a seven years term in the penitentiary

The Mikado matinee yesterday was largely attended. Owing to the want of a stage the company has postponed its visit to Chehalis for the present.

A STATEMENT

EAST PORTLAND Feb 19

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The reporter misapprehended my remarks at the meeting of the State Temperance alliance at Salem on the 16th inst. concerning the attitude of the Iowa State Register toward the temperance work in that state. In reply to a question from the audience as to whether the big distillery was still in operation in Des Moines I replied that I believed it was, adding that it was reported that pending the election upon the prohibitory amendment the editors and proprietors of the Register who were stockholders in the distillery were understood to be opposed to the measure provided it was to be interpreted as prohibiting the manufacture of alcohol for exportation

For myself I would not ask you to make this correction but the report of my address is calculated to do injustice to the Register without whose support prohibition in Iowa would have been at least imperiled. It is but simple justice to say that the Register has always been the tireless and uncompromising ally of the temperance forces of the state. Had it occurred to me at the time that my remarks would be reported at all I should have been more explicit thus possibly rendering any correction unnecessary

THE EAST SIDE

The Sunday School Missionary society of the M E church of this city have secured the services of Rev Clark Smith M D of Hillsboro Or to deliver a lecture on "Africa and African Customs" on Tuesday evening, March 1 1887. Rev Dr Smith has just returned from Africa. He is a graduate of the Willamette university and well known all over this state as an able and effective speaker. The information he will present will be entirely new and will be highly interesting

NOTES

A large crowd of young fellows and boys congregate around the entrance of the Salvation barracks much to the annoyance of those entering or passing along the sidewalk.

Beatrice McQuaid the daughter of Mr McQuaid who lives on the southwest corner of Third and E streets died of consumption last Saturday. The funeral takes place to-day

A real estate office in this city put an advertisement in THE OREGONIAN one day last week. The next day the property was sold amounting to about $[illegible]00 and five other applicants responded to the advertisement.

It is said that the Rev S Driver the son of Rev I D Driver of this city has fallen heir to a handsome sum by the death of a relative in the Eastern states. Rev S Driver is stationed in the Walla Walla country and his friends in the Willamette valley will be pleased to hear that the rumor has good foundation

For the information of those who have been making inquiries at the East Side office with regard to the bridge it may be said the work on the draw has been commenced. False work running up and down the river parallel with the bank is being put in. The opening on each side of the pivotal pier will not be obstructed

BLACK WOLF,

Or Black Leprosy is a disease which is considered incurable but it has yielded to the curative properties of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC—now known all over the world as S S S. Mrs Bailey of West Somerville, Mass near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption, and was treated by the best medical talent who could only say that the disease was a species of and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf, and commended the sufferer to her all wise Creator.

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S S S) prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She began its use under protest but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison as the sores assumed a red and healthy color as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs Bailey continued the S S S until last February every sore was healed, she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in twelve years a well woman. Her husband Mr C A Bailey is in business at 17½ Blackstone Street Boston and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure.
